LEARNING OBJECTIVES

1. To evaluate and manage vestibular disorders based on a better understanding of the differential diagnosis and potential consequences of various treatment options
2. To discuss and demonstrate core principles of facial nerve management in a variety of conditions that arise in pediatric and adult populations
3. To illustrate and discuss through case presentations the range of indications, benefits and risks of microsurgery and radiosurgery in lateral skull base pathology cases
4. To demonstrate and discuss the implementation of expanded CI candidacy in the clinical management of sensorineural hearing loss
5. To draw from a broader clinical experience and the latest research when managing patients who present with paraganglioma.
6. To identify and apply evolving endoscopic vs. conventional microscopic approaches to the practice of otology and neurotology.
7. To evaluate and manage vestibular schwannomas, with a focus on managing vestibular physiologic function in the context of intra- and postoperative decision-making.
8. To discuss the current status of Neurotology fellowship training and the Neurotology workforce.

ABOHNS MOC RECOGNITION STATEMENT
Successful completion of this CME activity, which includes participation in the evaluation component, enables the participant to meet the expectations of the American Board of Otolaryngology’s Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program. It is the American College of Surgeon’s (the CME provider) responsibility to submit participant completion information to ACCME for the purpose of recognizing participation.

PARTICIPANT DATA PRIVACY INFORMATION
If you are a Diplomate of the American Board of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery (ABOHNS) and would like to claim CME for MOC points for this educational activity (optional), you will be asked to provide personal information (Diplomate ID, first and last name, and month and day of birth) as part of the online CME evaluation process. The American College of Surgeons as our accredited provider, will only use this information to transmit your CME for MOC points to ACCME for the purpose of recognizing your participation upon successful completion of the activity.

CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION CREDIT INFORMATION

Accreditation

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of American College of Surgeons and American Neurotology Society. The American College of Surgeons is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ The American College of Surgeons designates this live activity (study groups and scientific program), for a maximum of 8.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Award of CME credits by ACS is based on compliance of the program with the ACCME accreditation requirements and does not imply endorsement by ACS of the content, the faculty, or the sponsor of the program. Successful completion of this CME activity, which includes participation in the evaluation component, enables the learner to earn credit toward the CME of the American Board of Surgery’s Continuous Certification program.
