

Career Opportunity:

Chair, Division of Otolaryngology Head & Neck Surgery

Humankindness needs you.

Omaha

Council Bluffs

Chair, Division of Otolaryngology - Head & Neck Surgery

The Otolaryngology Head & Neck Surgery Division at Creighton University School of Medicine in partnership with CHI Health and Creighton University Medical Center seek an Associate Professor or Professor to serve as the Chair of Otolaryngology - Head & Neck Surgery.

ABO-HNS certification is required. The Chair should be an exceptional surgeon and clinician. Percentage of clinical/research effort is negotiable.

Qualified candidates will have a record of significant academic and clinical accomplishments with a record of peer-reviewed publications and research productivity. Experience in program building desired.

Experience working in a highly matrixed organization preferred. Candidates should have an excellent reputation for mentoring both faculty and trainees.

The start date is negotiable and the position will remain open until filled.

Interested Candidates should submit a statement of interest, including clinical and research plans, and a current CV to:

Nicole Thomas, MHA
Creighton University/CHI Health
Nicole.Thomas504@Commonspirit.org

At CHI Health, we believe in the power of education. That is why, as partners with Creighton University School of Medicine, we are shaping a new future for academic health. CHI Health Bergan Mercy supports a culture where academic and community physicians collaborate. Together, we are taking education, research, and innovation well into the future.

CHI Health is a part of Commonspirit Health, a non-profit, Catholic health system committed to building healthier communities, advocating for the poor and vulnerable, and innovating how and where healing can happen, both inside our hospitals and out in the community.

Hear from one of our Otolaryngologist, Dr. Adam Pleas:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cgWelyi3yhs>

Hello humankindness®